IMAGINE PAYSON

Thank you to everyone who attended the Imagine Payson community workshops in June. Imagine Payson is the City's general plan update.

The general plan is the document that will be used to guide the growth and development of the city for the next 30 years.

The community workshops included a game exercise that used a map of the city as the "game board" and icons representing possible development options as game pieces. The workshop focused on issues such as redevelopment and reinvestment areas, transportation and the distribution of projected jobs and housing. The workshops challenged participants with the task of deciding where new growth and redevelopment should and should not occur within and around Payson City. The maps created by community members during the workshops will help inform the vision for the city's future.

Missed the workshops and still want to participate? Visit www.imaginepayson.com to add your comments to the project's interactive map.
